General setup

1 Place the main board and the season board in the center of the table, as shown in the illustration.

Shuffle the 9 cards at the bottom, then shuffle the 18 cards and place them on top, then shuffle the 18 cards and place them on top. Place this deck face down near the main board, then reveal the top 9 cards and arrange them in a 3×3 grid to the left of the main board, leaving a little space between cards.

3 Build the Encounter deck: for 2/3/4 players respectively, place 5/6/7 cards at the bottom, then 10/12/14 cards on top, then 10/12/14 cards on top (return the unused cards to the box without looking at them). Place this deck face down near the main board, then reveal the top 5/6/7 cards and place them to the right of the main board, sorted by distance from the Village : the crest ( ) in the top-left corner of each Encounter card indicates where to place it.

4 Build the Event stack: remove one Event tile at random without looking at it, secretly shuffle the remaining 5 tiles, and place them face down on the corresponding space of the main board thus creating the Event stack. Reveal the first Event.

5 Randomly draw 3 Quest tiles and place them face up at random on the 3 corresponding spaces on the main board, near the areas. Return the unused Quests to the box.

6A Place the Income tokens on their back side (...) near the main board.

6B For each revealed Encounter cards with an Income icon, place the corresponding Income Tokens face up on the card.

7A Place the Seal tokens face down near the main board. If some cards require one or more Seal tokens on them, place them immediately face up.

7B -1: place a number of Seal tokens equal to the number of players minus 1. ?: place only one seal token regardless of player count.

8 Create a general supply with the coins, which are considered unlimited.

9 The last player to have gone on an adventure takes the 1st Player token.

C Each player places their 3 Quest markers on the spaces of their player board.

D Each player places their 3 Villagers in the "Active Villagers" area of their player board.

e On the season board, each player places their Season marker on Spring; then on the main board, each player places their Adventurer in the Village and their score marker on space 0 of the score track, as well as their 25/50 and 75/100 tokens just below it.

f Each player places their 3 Bonus tokens face up next to their player board.

g Each player starts the game with 8 coins.

Main concepts of the game

Worker placement and worker retrieval

Greylune is a worker placement and worker retrieval game in which, over the 5 years of the game, players take actions depending on the season they are currently in. It is first and foremost a game about timing!

In Spring, players place their Villagers between two Village cards (displayed in a 3×3 grid), keeping their future choices uncertain while making those cards more expensive for opponents to activate.

In Summer, players remove their Villagers from the Village to buy Items, recruit Companions, or use Buildings (the three types of cards you'll find there). Players can also activate their Item cards to, among other things, go on an adventure by moving their Adventurer and resolving Encounter cards, which players may later tell as Stories by visiting a Village Tavern...

On the left of the season board, there is a Campsite: whenever a Villager is removed from the Village or spent, it becomes inactive and must be placed in the Campsite, to indicate it cannot be used any more this year.

Village cards (Companion, Item, Building)

COMPANION

Each Companion costs 7 coins to recruit (1) and gives you 1 Active Villager (2). All Companions have a Reaction ability at the bottom of the card that requires you to exhaust them by turning them sideways (3). Some Companions also have a Permanent ability (4), which does not require exhausting and is active whether the Companion is exhausted or not. Each Companion has their own way of scoring VP at the end of the game (5).

BUILDING

Buildings remain in the Village after being activated. Some of them allow the players to improve their skills or to gain VP, while others (the Scouts' and Travelers' Guilds) are a way to go on adventures. In Taverns, you will be able to tell your stories. Buildings can be activated multiple times, but some of them have Seal tokens placed on them during Winter (1). Activating such a Building requires choosing and discarding one Seal token to determine its effect. If there are no tokens left, the Building cannot be activated anymore.

ITEM

Items have a variable cost (between 2 and 7 coins) (1) and often have an ability which can be used as a Summer action (2). They are sometimes worth VP at the end of the game (3) and can provide an immediate bonus in Skills or VP (4). They represent equipment, means of transportation, valuables, or potions that must be discarded after use.

Going on an adventure

When you go on an adventure, your Adventurer first moves from the Village and may resolve an Encounter card on the space where they stop, if you can meet its requirement: gain the Encounter card's bonus and slide it above your player board. During the same year, your Adventurer moves from the space where it last stopped; then, each Autumn, your Adventurer returns to the Village.

Encounter cards

Each time you activate a Tavern, you will have the opportunity to tell stories using Encounter cards you previously resolved and slid above your player board. Each Encounter has a story value between 0 and 3: the higher the story value, the more rewarding it is to tell!

Skills: Strength and Magic

Strength and Magic are your skills, you must upgrade them to tackle more and more dangerous Encounters and Quests. If, at the end of the game, you have at least 3 Strength and 3 Magic, you get 2 VP. If both reach 5, you get 5 VP instead.

Whenever you should move your Strength or Magic token up when it is already on the top spot, gain 1 immediate VP instead.

How to play

The game is played over 5 years, divided into 3 periods: I (2 years), II (2 years), and III (1 year). Each year is divided into 4 seasons:

1) Winter: setup
2) Spring: Villagers placement
3) Summer: actions
4) Autumn: upkeep and income

Players take turns clockwise, starting from the First Player each year, until all players have reached Autumn. On your turn, you must choose one of the actions allowed by the season you are currently in.

A player in Spring must take one of the following actions:
- Place a Villager.
- Participate in the Event.
- Move to Summer and immediately take a Summer action.

A player in Summer must take one of the following actions:
- Gain coins.
- Activate a card.
- Participate in the Event.
- Use one of their Items.
- Use the special action on their player board.
- Move to Autumn and immediately take an Autumn action.

IMPORTANT:
A player who is in Summer can never return to Spring during the same year. In addition, once a player is in Autumn they can no longer take actions until the end of the year: their opponents continue taking actions normally. A year ends only when all players have reached Autumn.

A player in Autumn must take the following action:
- Pass (only once).

Some players may be in Summer or Autumn while others are still in Spring. Each player chooses actions based on their own season, independently of opponents. The Villagers controlled by players at the start of each year are called Active Villagers and are always located in the area of the player board.

1) Winter - Setup

IMPORTANT:
Skip this season for the first year; it has already been done during initial setup.

- Place each player's Season marker on the Spring space ,
- The First Player passes the First Player token to the player on their left.
- Discard the Village cards, Encounter cards, and the Event tile from the previous year. If there were any tokens (Seal or Income) on those cards, discard them as well.
- x9 Reveal and randomly lay out the top 9 cards of the Village deck near the main board to form a 3×3 grid, leaving a little space between cards.

If some cards require placing one or more Seal tokens on them, do so immediately face up:
-1: place a number of Seal tokens equal to the number of players minus 1. ?: place only one seal token regardless of player count.
If there are not enough Seal tokens left, shuffle the discard pile and form a new face-down pile.

- Reveal the top tile of the Event stack: this is the active Event for the current year.
- +3 Reveal the top 5/6/7 Encounter cards (2/3/4 players) and lay them out to the right of the main board according to their Distance ( ).

2) Spring - Villagers placement

Place a Villager

Take one of your active Villagers and place it in the Village between two adjacent cards, or between a card and an empty card space. There is no limit to the number of Villagers that may be placed between two cards (regardless of owner).

Example: William takes one of his Active Villagers 1 and decides to place it between the Jade Statue and the Travelers' guild 2 .

Participate in the event

This action may be taken only once per year by each player. To participate in the Event, you must place one of your Active Villagers on the Event tile and be able to activate it immediately (paying any cost if applicable) to gain its benefits.

Example: William places one of his Active Villagers on the Event and resolves its effect.

Change season

Move your Season marker to Summer on the Season Board and immediately take a Summer action.

Example: William moves his Season marker to Summer and immediately takes one of the available Summer actions.

3) Summer - Actions

Participate in the event

This action may be taken only once per year by each player. To use the active Event in Summer, you must place one of your Active Villagers OR one of your Villagers currently in the Village onto the Event tile, and be able to activate it immediately (paying any cost if applicable) to gain its benefits.

Example: William decides to move one of his Villagers from the Village to the Event, then resolves the Event's effect.

Gain coins

Choose one of your Villagers in the Village: name an adjacent card and receive from the bank 1 coin for each other Villager adjacent to that card, regardless of owner. The chosen Villager is then removed from the Village and placed on the Campsite.

IMPORTANT: If both cards adjacent to the chosen Villager have been removed, you gain nothing and the Villager is removed from the Village and placed inactive on the Campsite, to the left of the season board. This still counts as an action.

Tip: you may instead take the Participate in the Event action if you haven't done so yet.

Example: William names the Jade Statue card and removes one of his adjacent Villagers, then places it on the Camp (1). Two Villagers are now around that card, so he gains 2 coins (2).

Use an Item

Choose one of your readied Items that has an effect (if it has multiple effects, you must choose which one to use) and exhausts the card (it cannot be used again this year, unless it is readied by a card effect). If the chosen effect requires spending one or more Villagers, place them in the Campsite.

Sometimes an effect requires discarding the Item (most often a Potion), which must be returned to the box immediately. Then resolve the Item's effect.

Example: Conny exhausts her Short Sword and resolves its effect (spend 1 active Villager to gain 1 Strength).

Activate a card

Choose one of your Villagers in the Village. Name an adjacent card and activate it: if it is a Building, use it; if it is an Item card, buy it; and if it is a Companion card, recruit it.

In all cases, you must pay the bank the price shown in the top-left of the activated card (Buildings have no cost) + 1 additional coin for each other Villager adjacent to that card, regardless of owner. The chosen Villager is then removed from the Village and placed inactive on the Campsite, to the left of the season board.

Use a Building:

Immediately benefit (once) from the Building's effect. After activation, the Building card remains in place and may be used by other adjacent Villagers, including those belonging to the same player.

The cost or effect of some Buildings depends on the value of a Seal token. You may use such a Building only if at least one token remains on the card. In that case, you choose one of the tokens, use its value for the activation, and discard it. A Building remains in the Village even if it has no tokens left on it.

Example: Conny activates the Magical School by removing one of her Villagers and placing it on the Campsite. She pays 2 coins as indicated by the Seal token and discards the token. She also pays 1 coin for the remaining Villager next to the card, then gains 1 Magic. Since it was the last Seal token, this Building cannot be activated again.

Buy an Item:

Buy the Item and place it to the right of your player board: most Items can be used later by exhausting them. With some exceptions, each player is limited to 3 Items: should a player exceed this limit by buying an Item, they discard an Item of their choice (including the one they just acquired, after scoring any immediate VP it may provide), exhausted or not.

Buying some Items grants immediate benefits (shown in the top-right corner of the card): for example, if you buy an Item that has a Seal token showing a VP value on it, those VP are scored immediately and the Seal token is discarded.

Example: William buys Tommy by removing one of his Villagers and placing it on the Campsite. He spends 4 coins and places the Tommy card to the right of his player board.

Recruit a Companion:

Recruit a Companion and place them to the left of your player board. Each player can never recruit more than 3 Companions during the game. Each Companion grants an immediate gain of 1 Villager (placed right away in the "Active Villagers" area of the player board) and one or more permanent advantages but also reduces the player's income in Autumn by 1 coin.

Example: Conny recruits Kael by removing one of her Villagers and placing them in the Campsite. She pays 7 coins and places Kael to the left of her player board. She immediately takes one Villager from the supply and places it in the Active Villagers area of her player board.

Use the Special Action on Your Player Board

Each player has a special space on their player board which can be used only once per year, by placing 1 Active Villager to do one of the following:

- Tell a story (See "tell a story" page 12) with a total storytelling value of up to 3, gaining: 2 coins + 1 Strength + 2 VP.
- Move your Adventurer 1 space (see "Going on an adventure" page 11).
- Gain 1 Magic.

Example: William places one of his active Villagers on the special action space on his player board (1). He decides to tell a story with a storytelling value of 2 (2) to gain 2 coins and 1 Strength. He slides his card on the right side of his playerboard to show the story is told.

Change season

Move your Season marker to Autumn on the Season Board and immediately resolve all steps of that season.

4) Autumn - Upkeep and income

Once a player is in Autumn, they may no longer take any actions during that year and resolve the following steps in order:

IMPORTANT:

A player may move to Autumn only if they no longer have any of their Villagers left in the Village.

- Your Adventurer returns to the Village.
- Return your Villagers from the campsite, the event and the Special Action to the Active Villagers area of your player board.
- Ready all your cards.
- Gain your income: 3 coins, minus 1 coin per Companion, plus any gains from your Income tokens (see Appendix).

The year ends once all players are in Autumn.
Autumn also takes place during the final year of the game.

Example: William moves his Season marker to Autumn (1). He returns his Adventurer to the Village (2), then retrieves all of his Villagers: the one on the Event (3), those in the Campsite (4) and the one on the special action (5) and places them in his Active Villagers area. He readies his exhausted card (6), then gains his income: the basic income (3 coins) is reduced by 1 because of his Companion. He also gets 1 coin from his Sheep Income token for a total of 3 coins (7).

Adventures, Stories, Seal and Bonus tokens

Going on an adventure: When you trigger a movement action (), you may move your Adventurer up to the indicated number of spaces in the direction of your choice. You may choose to stay where you are. Afterwards, you may resolve an Encounter in your destination space.

To resolve an Encounter card, you must meet its requirement (bottom left) to gain the reward (bottom right).

Some Encounter cards have two requirements and two rewards. You must meet at least one of the requirements to resolve the Encounter and gain the corresponding reward (the left one for the left requirement, the right one for the right requirement). You must meet both requirements at the start of the resolution to gain both rewards.

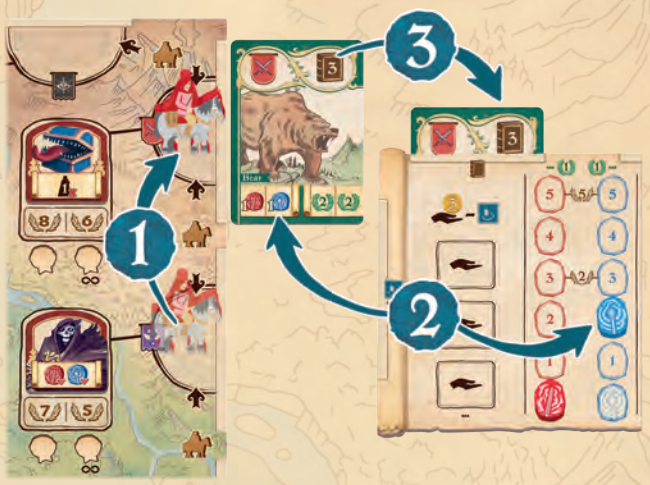

After resolving an Encounter, slide it in the Untold Stories area under the top of your player board.

Multiple Adventurers may be on the same space.

Example: Conny triggers movement up to two spaces. She chooses to move her Adventurer only one space 1 and then resolves the Encounter on her destination space.

She only meets the requirement on the right (have at least 1 Magic) 2 , so she gains only 2 VP. She then places the Encounter card in the Untold Stories column on her player board 3 .

Other rewards:

◆ After arriving on space , you may choose not to resolve an Encounter to gain 1 coin .

◆ After arriving on space , you may do the same to gain 1 VP .

Heroic Quests:

◆ After arriving on space , you may choose not to resolve an Encounter and instead resolve the Quest located there. To do so, you need to meet its requirements (see Heroic Quests page 20).

The first player to complete a quest places one of their Quest markers on the first space (which is worth the most end-game VP). All other players will place their markers on the second space. Each player can complete each Quest only once.

You can choose the other rewards or the Quests whether there are available Encounters or not.

Example: Conny triggers movement up to one space. She decides to stay where she is to resolve the Quest that asks her to return one Villager from her active area to the supply 1 .

After resolving it, she places one of her Quest markers on the first available space 2 .

She will score 8 VP at the end of the game.

Tell a Story (Taverns)

When you activate a Tavern or use the special action on your player board, you tell a story using one or more Encounter cards you previously resolved (up to a maximum storytelling value of 3). The rewards on each Tavern are cumulative:

- If the total storytelling value is 1, gain only the Tavern's first bonus.
- If it is 2, gain the first two bonuses.
- If it is 3, gain all three bonuses.

Once a story is told, move the Encounter card(s) to the right, into the Told Stories area on your player board. These Encounter cards cannot be used to tell stories again for the rest of the game.

You can only tell a story using multiple Encounter cards if all cards contribute to the reward. 3-valued Encounter cards can only be used alone, whereas 0-valued cards cannot be used. It is allowed to used two 2-valued Encounter cards for a storytelling value of 3.

Example: William uses The Silver Wolf to tell a story. He decides to move two Encounter cards (one with storytelling value 1 and one with storytelling value 2) for a total of 3. He gains the three rewards: 4 coins, he discards the remaining Seal token for 1 VP and he can ready one of his card.

IMPORTANT:
You may not use a 0-valued Encounter card to tell a story, unless you increase its value (Charisma Potion, Seren the Bard).

Seal tokens

Seal tokens are used in different ways depending on where they are placed:

When a player buys an Item with this symbol, they immediately score as many VP as the value of the token.

This symbol indicates the cost of an action. Discard a token and spend as many coins as its value to do the action of the Building. If there are no more tokens on this Building, you cannot do this action.

This symbol indicates the effect of the action. Discard a token and use its value for the action. If there are no more tokens on this Building, you cannot do this action.

These symbols on a Tavern are rewards. If the story value corresponding to that bonus is reached, discard a token and receive as many VP / coins as its value. If there are no more tokens on this Building, you can still use this Tavern to tell stories and benefit from the other bonuses.

How to place Seal tokens?

These Buildings receive as many Seal tokens as the number of players minus 1.

These Items receive 1 Seal token regardless of the player count.

- Seal tokens are always placed face up.

Bonus tokens

- When a player reaches 8 VP, they choose one of their 3 Bonus tokens, resolve its effect, and return it to the box.
- When a player reaches 20 VP, they choose one of their 2 remaining Bonus tokens, resolve its effect, and return all their Bonus tokens to the box.

- Gain 1 Villager.
- Gain 1 Strength and 1 Magic.
- Gain 5 coins.

Example: Conny reaches 9 VP and passes the 8-VP space: she decides to gain 1 Villager and returns the Bonus token to the box 1.

William, on the other hand, reaches 20 VP and, among his two remaining tokens, chooses to gain 1 Strength and 1 Magic, then returns that token and his last remaining token to the box 2.

End of the game

The game ends after the 5th year. Autumn also takes place during the final year of the game.
Any unused bonus tokens are discarded before the final scoring and cannot be earned if a player reaches 8 VP or 20 VP during the final scoring. Each player calculates their VP as follows by advancing their score marker on the score track and taking/flipping their 25/50 and 75/100 VP tokens when they reach those values.

To the VP gained during the game, add:

- VP from Quests.
- VP from Companions.
- VP from Items.
- 5 VP if you have 5 Strength and 5 Magic, or 2 VP if you have at least 3 Strength and 3 Magic.

The player with the most VP wins the game. In case of a tie, victory is shared.

Example:

William finishes with 26 VP on the score track 1 :

He adds 14 VP from Quests (5 VP + 9 VP) 2 .

8 VP from his Companions (4 VP from Lucan and 4 VP from Neris) 3 .

11 VP from his Items (1 VP from Tommy, 1 VP from the Horn, and 9 VP from the Magic Ring) 4 .

2 VP from skills (since his Strength marker did not reach 5, only 2 VP are scored) 5 .

William's final score is 61 VP!

Encounter cards I (x16)

Income Tokens

When an Encounter card with an Income token symbol enters play in Winter, place the matching token directly on that card (Income side up). After a player resolves an Encounter card with an Income token, they place it on their player board and immediately resolve its effect; they also resolve it again during the Income step in Autumn. The number of Income tokens a player may have is not limited (a player may have more than 3).

Encounter cards with a double requirement

At the start of the Encounter, you must specify which requirement(s) you wish to fulfill: the left requirement gives the left reward and the right requirement the right one. You cannot use one reward to fulfill the requirement. Ariok the Wizard and the Invisibility potion can only ignore one of the two requirements.
